

Capture Photography

Fife

At Capture Photography Fife, we understand the importance of your big day. It is our aim to capture your special moments and present these images to you in your finished album to allow you to cherish them forever.

Our friendly, relaxed manor and unobtrusive approach means I can photograph your special day, as well as your family and friends allowing you to relax and enjoy the day.

From the formality of the service, arranging group shots, any special images you require, right through to the first dance, I will blend into the background capturing the traditional and modern photographs.

We offer the complete coverage of your day, starting with the Brides preparations through to and including the evening reception. However we do not wish to impose on your day and we will restrict the coverage to meet your requirements.

You will be able to select you final images from a combination of contemporary / reportage and traditional images, as well as being able to choose between black and white or colour photos or a combination of both.

We deal with all album manufacturers and therefore can supply the album of your choice as well as parent album and stationery, please contact us for further details.
